Soon after took his family to America with a brother, Isaac, and sister, Rachel. Mum says John had land in USA but never took citizenship so had to relinquish it. Returned to Britain when Rachel was about 18 years old.

Probably returned to the Porth area. Later they kept a sweet shop on Splott Bridge, Cardiff. He was living at 8 (or 11??) Orbit Street, when he died outlived by widow and brother Matthew.

Hereford times carried obituary of John Williams. Check all newspapers at time of disaster as interest was nationwide.

Children: Rachel born Wales before move to America - Lou, Sal and Mags born in America - Ben was born in Tennessee

From Margaret and Oswald England: John and family went first to Philadelphia then on to Ohio and then other states. Each child was born in a different state. Gran Embry apparently used to row across the Mississippi (probably Tennessee) river to deliver tobacco to someone. Thought he may have been an innkeeper or such at one time, he made a lot of money at it, he poured the money from his hand into his wife's lap.

Came back to Britain for a visit, was helping Champs Thomas haymaking at (Lisvane?) and forgot the date and missed the boat back so decided to stay instead.

Aunty Aldyth says that Ann came back to Wales first with the children for a visit. Gran Embry (Rachel) came with her to help. Ann didn't want to leave Wales again once she had returned so John came back too.
