whether his attention has been called to a circular letter issued to M.P.s by a serving officer in the Royal Scots Greys opposing any proposed mechanisation of his unit and whether it is the policy of the War Office to permit representations in matters of general military policy from serving officers through Parliamentary channels."

Mr. Robert Boothby, in a supplementary question yesterday, asked Mr. Hore-Belisha whether he had been able to trace the "source of this rather reprehensible agitation."

Mr. Hore-Belisha replied that there were now certain facts before the Army Council, and military law and practice would be followed.

SINGING BARMAID ON THE RADIO

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT

Ashford (Middlesex), Tuesday.

Dorothy Hornblow, twenty-five-year-old blonde barmaid of the Ship and Pilot Hotel, Cardiff, used to sing to customers. To-morrow she is singing "Mine Alone" on the wireless.

"I am overwhelmed at suddenly coming into the limelight after only singing for customers at our hotel," she told the "Daily their customary prompt attention.

"Radio Pie" was first served to list just a year ago. They should apprecia now a second helping.

Served up in the pie will be Lyle E
"Singing Dan"; Billy Matchett, who broadcast from the Argyle, Birken Dorothy Hornblow, who was discovered ing to customers in her father's hot Cardiff; Hugo, who will be butting in a Gladdy Sewell, the well-known comedie and the ever popular Mario de Pietro.

The two chefs, Leslie Sarony and Holmes, will endeavour to make the mix with its new ingredients, as palatabl before

Mr. Curran, who recently has the honour of conducting the King's Queen around part of a South Munitions factory, is the second son of the late Mr. Edward Curran, of the place, Cardiff, and Northlands, Glamorganshire. He is an engineer with the firms with which his family is associated—Edward Curran and Co., Ltd., and Curran Bros., Ltd., Cardiff.

Given away by Capt. G. P. O'Connell, the bride wore a donkey frock and hat trimmed with blue and a coat of natural blue. Her flowers were brown orchids.

Her sister, Miss Helen Hornblower, was the bridesmaid, and her cousin, Miss Mary O'Donovan, was the flower girl.

Bishop, Glyn Davies, George lain and David Jones were e mittee members.
